HEATHER HORTON

Through astrological research and consulting methods, Heather Horton brings her professional business and personal life clients to a greater understanding of who they are, whom they were, and where they are going. She creates a safe, trusted and professional atmosphere to all of her clientele. Heather began her career with the Yucatan in 1997 and later The Black & Blue in public relations and promotions and quickly became a well known promoter and manager. After a brief director's assistant position with a Los Angeles film director she shifted gears into the finance industry working in executive positions for major corporations such as Saxon, Inc. and Morgan Stanley. Upon the arrival of her daughters, Heather left the corporate world to focus on her love of the arts, writing, and astrological study. She later opened her own financial firm and followed that by starting two more small businesses; Indigo Life Designs, ltd and MyBigSis.net, ltd. Heather has her degree in Business Psychology, is a published writer, and is a practicing astrologer with memberships in NCGR, AYA, & AFAN. Heather represents artists, musicians, chefs, writers, 'green' and holistic businesses, spiritualists, and the like.
